

WHAT IS CITY GIVING DAY?

Unite to promote the City as a force for good

The City of London is a global leader in financial and professional services, but not everyone knows that it also invests significant sums in communities and causes to change lives and make a wider positive impact on society.

Launched in 2014, City Giving Day is a unique annual event that has become a staple in the City's calendar, uniting us through charity and community partnerships.

Companies involved in City Giving Day use it as an opportunity to showcase their amazing charitable and community work, letting their staff and visitors know about the difference they are making and the lives they are changing.

In fact, some companies use City Giving Day as an opportunity to run events at their national and international offices too - bringing their businesses together for a common goal.

2019 was City Giving Day's best year yet - a record 424 companies signed up and were involved in a whole range of activities from charity fairs and cycleathons to bake offs and raffles.

This year we aim to go bigger and better than ever!

For news and updates in the lead up to City Giving Day follow our stories in CITY A.M.

“ We think that it is so important for the City to come together in common purpose to recognise the enormous contribution that collectively the City makes to civil society and the third sector in particular. ”

Nick Wright, UBS